WASHINGTON, April 8—Chief Justice Fuller began to read the decision of the supreme court in the income law case this morning. He said: The court can find no difference between a tax on land itself and a tax on rents or income derived from land. The court, therefore, is of the opinion that the tax on rents or landed investments is a direct taxation and unconstitutional. Justice Field then read a dissenting opinion. The court decided that the law is unconstitutional, as relating to income from state, county or municipal property. It was on two points relating to rents and state, county and municipal property judgment before reversed.

Justice Field's decision at 1 o'clock, was as follows: I am of the opinion that the whole law of 1894 is null and void.

Justice White followed with a second dissenting opinion. He said it was not the right of the supreme court to make a proper when judges who are drawing small salaries will be affected by the law.

Justice Harlan followed Justice White in a dissenting opinion, and the court closed. Nothing was said as to how a justices' school, save the three or four dissents.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 8—Miss Frances Lillian Wickes, youngest daughter of the vice president of the Pullman Palace Car Company, Chicago, was debating on the professional stage her evening at the Lyceum theatre, appearing in the "Sign of the Cross," with the company of Wilson Barrett.

"I can see nothing in this move," Miss Wickes said which would particularly interest the public," said Mr. Barrett this evening.

"It came about solely through the instrumentality of the late theatrical manager, John W. Norton, who was my friend and who was killed in a disastrous crash about some weeks ago," she had requested me to give certain particulars of his trials, and Miss Wickes was among the number.

I had occasion, therefore, to judge of her talent, and found her to possess a mistakeable talent as an actress, and am glad to name her with my company, for she has great ability, and I have no doubt she will become a brilliant success as an actress. At present, of course, she plays only the junior parts."

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersman, of Dinwiddie, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the result was almost marvellous in the case of my son. He was pastor of the Baptist church at 'New' and was brought down with pneumonia ascending La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little rest. He seemed as if he could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory. He is now well and strong. Dr. Geo. McIntosh's drug store. WHO WAS PAUL REVERE?
Everybody knows "Paul Revere's Ride," but what else did he ever do? The "Dictionary of United States History," this standard reference book is arranged alphabetically and contains the most comprehensive information about every event in American history, and about the man who made the events. It tells at a glance what would take hours of research in other books. It fills a place in bookshelves that was wholly vacated before it came. It is as fresh as any new book and library or library of reference, a practical day-to-day. Our author, J. Franklin James, Ph.D., Professor of History of Brown University, formerly of Johns Hopkins University.
AGENTS can make more sales with less talk and less walking with this book than with anything else they ever sold. It appeals to everybody. It is a book for everybody. It is a book for everybody for every member of the family—used for school, college, and library alike. Write for circulars and terms.
